

Differentiation for EAL Learners

Practical Strategies and Resources

One day course – Tuesday 29 August 2017

Do you want to develop differentiation strategies to help better meet the needs of your EAL learners? If so, this practical course is for you.

Develop an understanding of how to use differentiation strategies to support EAL learners with language proficiency, enabling them to fully access the curriculum and achieve in school. This course will explore how to use information gained from assessment to support both language and curricular learning by embedding differentiation strategies. It will take into consideration those pupils who are new to English and more advanced bilingual students.

Primary and secondary courses offered separately.

This course covers:

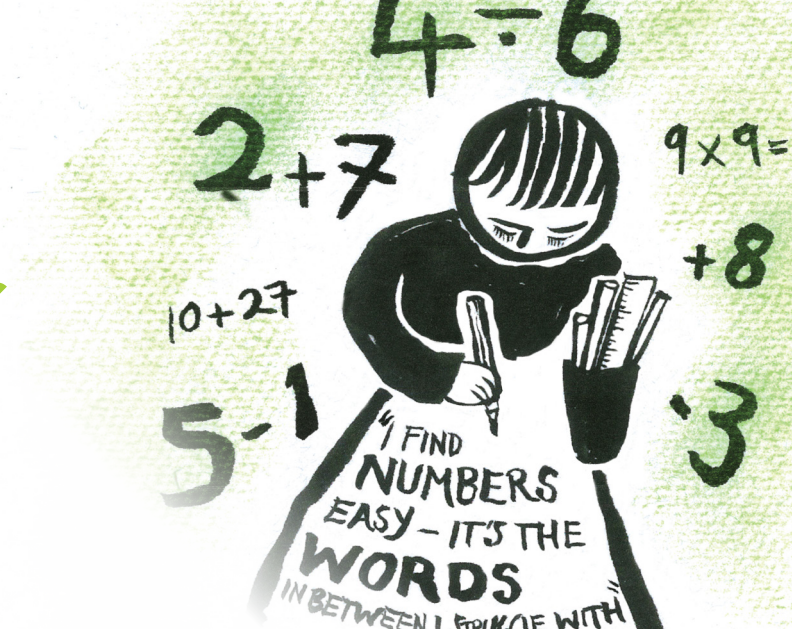

- Ideas on how to use knowledge gained from EAL assessment to better inform differentiation in planning
- Strategies for differentiating tasks for all EAL learners and ideas on how to embed language support in class
- Useful and practical EAL resources to help with differentiation for your EAL learners.

By the end of the course you will have:

- A clear understanding of how to effectively differentiate for all EAL learners
- A set of strategies and resources to take away and use in your role.

This course is for:

- EAL coordinators
- Heads of department
- Teaching staff
- Teaching assistants.

About the trainer

Our teacher trainer, Katherine Solomon, has wide experience of working in multilingual schools both in the UK and overseas. She has worked across primary education and academic management and has been working for The Bell Foundation as an Associate and Training Manager since 2014. Katherine's professional interests include EAL Assessment and working in partnership with schools to improve provision for EAL learners. She holds a PGCE Primary, CELTA and DELTA qualifications, along with an MA in Applied Linguistics.

Workshop details

Date: Tuesday 29 August 2017
Time: 10am-4pm
Venue: The Bell Foundation, Red Cross Lane, Cambridge, CB2 0QU
Cost: £175 (includes lunch and refreshments)

For more information, or to book your place on the course, please contact info@bell-foundation.org.uk or call 01223 275509.