

Train the Trainer

Skills for EAL

Teacher Educators

One day course - Friday 1 September 2017

If you are seeking inspiring ways to share your expertise in supporting pupils with English as an additional language, this course is for you. Our practical one day course will enable you to confidently plan and deliver effective training to teachers and trainees on Initial Teacher Education or Continuing Professional Development programmes, by:

- Exploring key principles and methodology for presenting EAL content in teacher education sessions
- Introducing a flexible framework for planning teacher education sessions
- Matching training goals with appropriate techniques, strategies and activities for impactful teacher learning.

By the end of the course you will have:

- A better understanding of good practice in planning ITE and/or CPD sessions for (trainee) teachers on EAL
- An increased awareness of practices that effectively support or hinder teacher learning in ITE/CPD sessions
- A greater familiarity with a range of methods and resources for teaching teachers
- Explored a possible framework for teacher planning sessions
- Shared ideas and engaged with fellow practitioners and trainers.

This course is for:

- Qualified teachers with substantial experience in EAL
- EAL coordinators and specialists who currently deliver EAL training to teachers and trainees on ITE or CPD programmes, or those who might want to in the future.

About the trainer

Silvana Richardson has trained Initial Teacher Education programme trainees, primary and secondary school teachers, EAL coordinators, Senior Leaders and Teacher Educators. She has worked at The Bell Foundation since it was first established in 2012, and became Programme Quality Manager in 2014. Silvana holds an MA in Teacher Education, is PGCE and DELTA qualified, and has trained teachers all over the world. She has taught in secondary schools and further education, has managed teacher educators, authored online teacher training materials, and is a regular guest speaker at national and international conferences. Her professional interests include impactful, evidence-informed CPD, and leadership for learning in EAL.
